How to read the hours. They are estimates. Time with the tool includes reviewing and correcting the output. Net takes off the saving on output that was not used, and the time spent on those attempts before they were thrown away. Each tool names where its usage data comes from and who exports it. Hours saved are not money.

Pinned: what is live

- Production budget variance commentary (Useful GPT, Production Finance). Drafts the weekly variance commentary from a pasted cost report extract. Not for: Final figures or anything that has not been checked line by line. Known limitation: It only has the standard budget template, so commentary on a co-production needs a closer check. Until it is fixed: Check the structure against the co-production budget by hand, or ask Daniel R. Next review: Fri 20 Nov. Ask: Daniel R.
- Weekly cash position summary (Claude Project, Finance). Turns the three weekly bank and ledger exports into a draft cash summary. Not for: Forecasts, or any figure not in the exports. Known limitation: none recorded. Next review: Fri 4 Dec. Ask: Priya R.
- People policy answers (Copilot agent, People). Answers common policy questions and shows the paragraph it used. Not for: Individual cases, grievances or anything that needs a decision. Known limitation: The agent cites two policy documents inconsistently, so some answers show a paragraph that may not be the current one. Until it is fixed: Check the paragraph it shows against the policy page before you act on an answer, or ask Sofia M. Next review: Wed 11 Nov. Ask: Sofia M.
- New starter pack builder (Automation, People). Builds a new starter pack and the access tasks when an offer is accepted. Not for: Visa, payroll or any case with special handling. Known limitation: It does not cover contractors yet. Until it is fixed: Build the pack for a contractor by hand, or ask Callum F. Next review: Fri 27 Nov. Ask: Sofia M.
- Press release first drafts and tone check (Useful GPT, Marketing and Communications). Drafts routine releases from an approved brief and checks the tone. Not for: Unannounced projects until the sensitivity checklist is in place. Known limitation: The sensitivity checklist for unannounced projects is not agreed yet. Until it is fixed: Write anything unannounced by hand, or ask Tariq H. first. Next review: Wed 18 Nov. Ask: Tariq H.
- Expense query triage (Automation, Finance). Tags and routes expense queries to the right queue. Not for: Disputes or anything that needs a policy decision. Known limitation: Supplier queries are not routed to Procurement yet, so they land in the general queue. Until it is fixed: Forward a supplier query to Procurement by hand until the routing is added. Next review: Wed 25 Nov. Ask: Priya R.

DISCOVERY

The buildable request, and how the backlog is ordered

One page per request · Raised at a check-in or from the front door

What it is called
Who asked (a named person)
The kind of task
How it is done today, in three lines
How many times a month
Minutes each time, today
The kind of material involved
What good looks like

How the proposed order is worked out

Addressable hours a month is how many times a month the task happens multiplied by the minutes it takes today. The proposed order divides that by effort (Low counts one, Medium two, High four). A request with a field missing is not ranked; it goes back to the person who raised it. The Lead sets the final order and can override any of it.

A proposal for the Lead, not a decision. ILLUSTRATIVE DATA
